

Dr. Gary Bradt (pronounced 'brought')
Introduction

Get comfortable being uncomfortable. That advice comes from our speaker today who provides tools and perspective to do just that.

He is an author, psychologist, C-Suite executive coach and expert on change and leadership who has been involved in those fields for more than 25 years.

He first came to national prominence in 2000 when Spencer Johnson chose him to be the person to deliver speeches on his monumental bestselling book, Who Moved My Cheese.

A writer in his own right, he is author of The Ring in the Rubble: Dig Through Change and Find Your Next Golden Opportunity. That book, acclaimed by his peers and general readers alike, delivers hope, humor and inspiration for all of us as seeking to make our way in a time of unprecedented change.

He has spoken for IBM, FedEx, Kodak, eBay, NASA and Aetna, to name just a few – and he is here with us today.

Please welcome – Dr. Gary Bradt.
